

New Technologies

Robert Davidson – Clip 9

I feelI'm excited about the new technology. There are certain new technologies that I would use and there are certain ones I will not use, and one of them is to do my graphics on computer. But I do [do] the line drawings on computer for the metal cut-outs. I will not do it for [painting]. I love the hands-on experience. I feel it's no different than at contact when the first explorers came with iron or steel my ancestors readily accepted it and took advantage of the new tool that enabled them to expedite their own creations. I'm excited about some of the new technologies. I feel it has its place and it allows artists to expand and experiment because every medium has its own expression
