

Bill Vazan - Clip 10

Drawing

For me it is basic, I do some teaching at the University of Quebec in Montreal and I also taught at Concordia and I have always felt and I guess this was drummed into me - and I see the truth of it - from my past school days, is that drawing is the basis of pretty well everything. It is the first impulse to record something visually. So that really takes a real primary position in getting about the making of a visual statement.

